In Defense of Her People!

An open letter to:
Chief of Police Germain
Beck, The Citizens of Berlin,
Wisconsin

True, Police Chief Beck, I am not a registered social worker but when I see an injustice being done to any one regardless of race and they ask for my help I will do everything in my power to help them. I was ready to leave this City the first year I got here after I became aware of the prejudices but I realized that was the easy way out. The more I am ridiculed and the more injustices I uncover against the minorities or against anyone for that matter, the more determined I am to stay here and help those that need and ask for help. This is my Country where my husband and I and my five children were born in and the Country of many millions of Americans of Mexican decent. We love this Country and we are proud to be Americans.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Edward Torres

MYTHS—LIKE THE MELTING POT—ARE DEAD

Chicano center . . .

The possibility of making the University of Wisconsin Center-Fox Valley at Menasha the academic and cultural center for Mexican-American students in Wisconsin is being considered by UW officials.

Franklin Doverspike, Fox Valley Center dean, discussed the idea this week with the trustees of the center from Winnebago and Outagamie counties.

He and Alan Hershfield, assistant center system chancellor in Madison, said Wednesday the program is being considered but is strictly in the exploratory stage. UW officials are more interested in community reaction than anything else at this point, Doverspike said.

Hershfield indicated that the program would not be forced upon the Fox Valley Center and its surrounding communities, if they didn't want it.

Doverspike said the goal of the program would be to provide a place where Mexican-American young people could come to learn about their own culture and history, and at the same time, gain the necessary education that would help them assimilate into America's culture.

The Mexican-American studies, including a museum containing items of that culture, would serve to attract Mexican-Americans from throughout the state, Doverspike said, and also would provide the other students of the center the opportunity to learn about Mexican-American culture and history.

He doesn't believe in us and our civilization

Supv. Nick Karras, vice chairman of the center trustees, told the Outagamie County Board's property, building and maintenance committee that center officials want community reaction before deciding whether to go ahead with the program.

Two committee members, Supvs. Charles Wussow and Alfonso Lewandowski, opposed any idea to create something special for Chicanos, while Supv. Barbara Steger thought it might be a good idea.

Wussow said he had no objection to Chicanos going to a university to learn English or to take other standard courses. "But, it's not our duty to preserve their old language or culture," he said. "Why should we cater to someone who came here to pick snap beans."

Lewandowski agreed, saying that if they wanted to go to a university, "let them do it the American way."

Sanders Resigns

Commission Hears Complaints

berlin Journal

Three members of the Berlin Police and Fire Commission heard complaints from several sources Tuesday night, and Secretary Dick Sanders submitted his resignation to the Commission because of the increasing pressure of business.

driver was related to the arresting officer.

- Mrs. Torres said she had no complaint with the accident report but wanted the Commission to know that the chief had told her, "I'm tired...of you minorities always thinking you're being picked on." She said he also told her he was glad Nixon was in office and that she (Mrs. Torres) could teach the next police school if she wanted to. Mrs. Torres said she was not harassed but did object to the language referring to the "Minorities," noting that she was the only spokesman "these people have in this town."

But all not perfect

for Mexican-Americans

Fond du Lac Reporter

Most of the big urban areas of this country have large concentrations of ethnic minorities — one, several or all of those mentioned above.

Fond du Lac does not have a large group of any of these ethnic minorities; however, it does have an increasing number of Mexican-Americans. There are now about 65 families living right in Fond du Lac and many more living in the outlying areas.

Two Fond du Lac Mexican-Americans and one white member of the community comment on what is being done, or isn't being done, to help these people play a meaningful role in the community.

"There is some discrimination against Mexicans here, but most of the people

Chairman Braun asked Beck about it and the Chief did not deny the remarks. He said a civil action could be taken if there was a question about the arrest and that the accident report was perfect. He added that he thought it was getting disgusting having "them" think they're above the law. Mrs. Torres said she agreed that Mexican-Americans should be treated like anyone else, that maybe the Chief was even too lenient with some of them. She said her only gripe was with what the Chief had told her.

At this point, the Chief's voice rose and he said he was a Marine and a U.S. citizen and "not a jackass!" Mrs. Torres said she hesitated a long time before coming to the Commission because "I knew everything would be turned around." Braun told her that they would take the matter up with the Chief.

Once more racial discrimination rears its head in Waupun State Prison, in the form of a small clique of officers who are determined to make Chicanos here pay twice for their crimes; Once by Public trial and again by their own specialized form of entertainment "Harassing all Spanish Speaking inmates."

In an attempt to stop Chicanos from speaking spanish, our native language, this sick segment of America fails. There are attempts to exterminate our Spanish-Indian culture; there is a deep rooted hatred from English-Speaking people of anything Spanish. It is evident that Chicanos are being separated even far more, by the fact that we are being kept apart physically. Any gathering of two or more Chicanos brings a running guard into our midst. White cons are left pretty much on their own, as are blacks (to a certain extent), Any heavy harassment of blacks will bring immediate results.

Any heavy harassment of blacks will bring immediate results from such black groups as NAACP, Black Muslim., PUSH and others. Other cons have groups such as the American Indians and their AIM.. Chicanos seem to have no-one to help us. The institution knows this, and does whatever it pleases with us, regardless of the humility they cause.

One glaring incident happened when an inmate (Chicano) went to see the man next to the Warden with what seemed to be legitimate grievances (harassment by guards for speaking spanish). He was told to speak 'American' because he was in America--no other excuse was offered, no action was taken against the guard. All this from the Assistant Warden..What are we to expect from lesser employees? What happened to the Constitution--the Bill of Rights? Are they going to be conveniently ignored if other incidents arise? All this that is happening now will not go away because the free public can't see it nor if you close your eyes and choose to ignore it. Elimination to these and other problems will come only through outside help and efforts.

LA JUVENTUD POR LA RAZA

La Juventud Por La Raza, a local Chicano youth group, met with State Department employees February 3rd to present and discuss its "La Juventud de La Raza Talent Search and Development" proposal which La Juventud plans to submit to other agencies and departments.

At the meeting were: Clem Baime, Department of Public Instruction; John Kostischak, Dept of Industry Labor & Human Relations; Teresa Olivares, UW-Oshkosh; Wilma Stump, UW-Madison Chicano counselor; Roberto Contreras, UW student majoring in Radio & TV broadcasting. By the formation of a dramatic group, a radio program (in Spanish), and participation in the production of ADELANTE RAZA! the youth hope to achieve their goal: ..to motivate and develop an educational concern within our Chicano families; to identify talents among our youth and to help them develop these talents further to promote personal growth by easing the strain of cultural clashes between the Anglo society and the Mexican American family; thus providing our communities with trained and skillful leaders.

Progress of this proposal and its program will be reported in the next issue of ADELANTE RAZA!.

DRUNK DRIVER JAIL PLAN PUSHED

Madison, Wis.--Legislation to require a mandatory two day jail sentence for every driver convicted of drunken driving will be sought by Gov. Lucey's highway safety chief.

John Radcliffe, state highway safety co-ordinator, told his advisory committee Monday that he would introduce a bill to require the jail sentence for every conviction.

"It's tough, yes. But we're going to have to get tough" Radcliffe told the committee.

Presently, many persons convicted for the first time of driving while drunk are fined up to $250, but not jailed. Many also are placed on probation if they agree to attend special driver counseling classes.

The proposal to jail drunken drivers is even more severe than the provision put in the state's new implied consent law in 1970 that required a mandatory jail sentence for drivers refusing to take the intoxication test.

EDUCATION

El estado de Pennsylvanis ha decretado una nueva ley obligando a todos los distritos escolares del estado a establecer programas de enseñanza bilingüe. Si el distrito escolar cuenta con 20 o más jóvenes y niños cuyo idioma nativo no sea el Inglés, debe establecer un programa bilingüe; si cuenta con menos de veinte debe establecer cuando menos algunos programas bilingües.

La Raza, Inc. ha iniciado dos nuevos programas de educación en cooperación con la Universidad de Lawrence, Appleton y la Universidad de Oshkosh. Estas clases tienen lugar en las casas de los niños después de las horas de escuela, dos veces por semana. El programa incluye a 76 niños de Berlin y Shiocton con 22 estudiantes de Appleton y Oshkosh.

JUVENTUD POR LA RAZA

Un grupo de jóvenes de distintos pueblos han planeado nuevos métodos de enseñanza y aprendizaje. Se trata de desarrollar talentos que no son percibidos por las escuelas. Nuestra juventud quiere aprender y trabajar al mismo tiempo por La Raza. Se proponen a:

- 1.ercar un grupo de teatro para presentar al público nuestra música y cultura.
- 2.establecer un programa de radio en español para aprender a hablar en público y hacer mejor uso del idioma materno.
- 3.contribuirán a la publicación de ADELANTE RAZA! escribiendo noticias, poemas y haciendo reportes de La Raza en nuestra región.

CARCEL PARA LOS BORRACHOS

Cuando una persona que ha tomado bastante, es detenida por la policía, generalmente paga una multa y al poco rato sale otra vez a la calle. John Radcliffe, jefe del departamento de seguridad de tráfico, dijo que va a proponer que se establezca la ley de que: dos o tres días de cárcel sean impuestos a todo aquel convicto de manejar cuando intoxicado. CARCEL MANDATORIA Y NO MULTA.

“STRANGERS IN OUR HOMELAND”

The series of "Strangers in our Homeland" held in the Fox Valley area, Wisconsin, during the months of January and February ended with the last session of "School Policy and Public Assistance", on February 8th.

A comprehensive report with the topics, reaction to the presentations, and the dialogues held will be printed shortly. As a general comment we would like to say that what happened in the Fox Valley enlightened many of us. There were various points of view that were stressed in regard to the programs...the most unanimous and general comment being: "too much of the negative side was presented and the picture of the Anglo as the oppressor was consistent".

However, it is without a doubt that the series was an eye opener for the Valley and it did reflect a reality that there are "Strangers in our Homeland".

La serie de conferencias organizadas por La Raza, Inc. con el patrocinio de las universidades de Lawrence, Fox Valley Center, Silver Lake College y Oshkosh y otros grupos de la comunidad, en Appleton, Wis., durante los meses de Enero y Febrero, suscitaron bastante discusión por estas regiones. El título, extraños en propia tierra, y las presentaciones disgustaron a algunos porque enfatizaban la imagen del bolillo como opresor sin conciencia.

Algunos individuos e instituciones se dieron cuenta que los problemas no los ha creado La Raza, sino que han existido entre nosotros por mucho tiempo.

La Universidad Lawrence que estos últimos años ha hecho un esfuerzo por reclutar estudiantes negros y entender su cultura habían ignorado a La Raza por completo. Otras universidades de esta localidad, que han publicado estudios sobre el cultivo del suelo y nuevas simientes, etc. nunca habían presentado un trabajo acerca de la contribución del trabajador mejicano a la industria y agricultura local y del estado.

Fue un abrir de ojos para las industriales y gente de la calle. Apesar de algunos conflictos, creemos que fue un buen comienzo.

Cuando el frio del olvido
y las amarras de la opresión ignorancia
y miedo arrancaban pedazos de carne haciendo brotar sangre
y choros de vida;
mi Raza humillada
penosamente se arrastraba... suspiraba por un soplo de alivio pero...jamás se dio por vencida...
cuando de pronto,
impulsada por huracanes de fuego y torrentes de Espiritu indomable otra vez, orgullosa y noble se levanta erguida mi gente caminan ... tunbando obstáculos corren ... hacia Adelante!

Raza,
Cuando al cruzar carreteras,
campos,
ciudades
nubes de tormenta
y fieros huracanes
del sol las rayos ocultan, y envuelto en manto oscuro cegado

ansioso busques la luz prende los focos de la Historia y hacia Adelante sin v acilar, camina ...

Cuando en el correr de tu vida acosado por problemas perseguido de enemigos rendido de cansancio quieras fallecer
descansa un tanto,
cobra valor,
mira al miedo de frente
y da un paso firme hacia Adelante!

SEARCHING FOR SOME ONE

I'm looking for some one,
Some one to talk to,
Some one to share with-- my problems in life.

It's real--I'm searching... searching for a friend who'll understand, who'll fight for us.

I've looked thru eyes--thousands of them-- blue and green,
but,
have not found him.

I've gone places--many too, heard noises...saying things-- a language I don't understand;
saw faces...white turning far from me.

I've thought...
I've found him...
Yesterday,...I did,

I took a walk
Some thing fell on me,

I looked...
CESAR CHAVEZ,
and Emiliano Zapata close beside him...

They say to me...to us
LIBERATION
and FREEDOM !

APPEALS COURT RULES THAT FARM EMPLOYERS HAVE PRIMARY RESPONSIBILITY FOR FEDERAL WAGE LAW COMPLIANCE

NEW ORLEANS--The U.S. Court of Appeals for the 5th Circuit here has ruled that agricultural employers are responsible for assuring that workers hired by independent farm labor contractors are paid the federal minimum wage.

The January 4, 1973, ruling upholds a lower court decision that Griffin and Brand of McAllen, Texas, violated the Fair Labor Standards Act by allowing harvest workers to be paid less than the required minimum farm wage of $1.30 an hour, illegally employing child labor and failing to keep accurate employee records.

Griffin and Brand contended that the workers were supplied by "crew leaders" who as "independent contractors" were solely responsible for hiring and payment of wages. The company usually paid crew leaders a weekly sum. Crew leaders paid laborers a portion of the sum and kept the remainder for themselves.

However, the U.S. District for the Southern District of Texas ruled that as a matter of "economic reality," the workers were employees of Griffin and Brand for purposes of the Fair Labor Standards Act, and accordingly, it made little difference whether the crew leaders were "independent contractors".

The appellate court affirmed, saying: "There may be independent contractors who take part in production or distribution who would alone be responsible for the wages and hours of their own employees, but independent contractor status does not necessarily imply the contractor is solely responsible for his employees under the Fair Labor Standards Act."

RANCHEROS SON RESPONSABLES

Algunos troqueros o contratistas robaron dinero al trabajador. La Compania Griffin y Brand de McAllen, Tejas, acostumbraba pagar sumas de dinero a los troqueros, para que estos lo repartieran al trabajador. Pero los troqueros pagaban lo que le parecia y guardaban el resto en sus bolsillos.

El 4 de enero de 1973, la corte Federal del distrito cinco, en New Orleans declaro que: la compania puede demandar al contratista, pero es responsabilidad de la compania el pagar el salario del trabajador.

Madison, Wis.--Migrant camp operators wishing to recruit workers with state assistance for the 1973 season will have to comply with existing migrant housing regulations even though the state temporarily cannot enforce the regulations, said the Department of Industry, Labor & Human Relations.

The department is without occupational safety enforcement powers due to a federal court order which forced the U.S. Department of Labor to preempt job health and safety law enforcement contracts with the federal agency. Alcario Samudio, chief of the state department's migrant services unit, said camps would have to meet existing state housing codes and be certified by the state before workers could be recruited by the Wisconsin State Employment Service (WSES). Last year, nearly 70% of the 5,800 migrants in the state were recruited through WSES.
